

APPELLATE COURT ASKED TO DECIDE ISSUE IN CASES

Court of Appeals Asked to Rule on Judge Halbert's Decision on Conspiracy in Breathitt Cases.

Catlettsburg, Ky., Aug. 22. — The case of the commonwealth of Kentucky vs. Will Barnett, Marion Barnett, Alfred Barnett, Ambly Barnett, Will Campbell, Ed Davis, Chester Davis, Willie Davis and Ed Combs, in which the question of conspiracy to prevent an election in Breathitt county, was the contention in the June term of Boyd county circuit court, will be filed in the Court of Appeals today, according to an announcement made here. The bill of exceptions was signed by Judge William C. Halbert of the Boyd circuit court.

The purpose of the appeal is to have the Court of Appeals interpret the section of the Kentucky statutes on conspiracies. If the Court of Appeals sustains Judge Halbert's ruling on the question of conspiracy then the defendants will be tried on a charge of killing for which they were also indicted, it is stated.

The point made by the defendants in this case was that the commonwealth had used these defendants as witnesses in the case of the Commonwealth against French Combs, Shade Combs, Leslie Combs and George Allen Jr., tried and convicted for alleged conspiracy to prevent an election at Clayhorne precinct and for the murder of George McIntosh, and by reason thereof were exempt from being tried on the charge of conspiracy to destroy the election, the result of which caused the killing of Asbury Combs and Ethan Allen the state charges.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Leslie Combs, Shade Combs, French Combs and George Allen, Jr., which was tried in the June term of Boyd county circuit court is being appealed. This appeal will soon be ready to be filed in the Court of Appeals at Frankfort.

TWO MEN TO BE TRIED ON CHARGES OF INTERFERING

Federal Commissioner Will Hear the Charges Against Men Charged With Interfering With Marshals.

Covington, Ky., Aug. 22. — Two men J. B. Sutton and W. H. Barker, held in the Covington jail by the federal authorities on charges of interfering with United States Deputy Marshals, while the latter were serving notices of an injunction issued by Federal Judge Cochran will be arraigned Tuesday before Commissioner Oscar H. Roetken Covington.

Word was received by Roy B. Williams, Marshal, that John Manning, Chief of Police, and H. W. Patterson, policeman at Corbin, had been arrested on a charge of interfering with federal officers in the discharge of their duties.

Marshal Williams ordered the prisoners brought to Covington. It is charged in the warrants that the police officers and W. H. Barker, deputy sheriff, harassed the deputy marshals on information said to have been submitted in an affidavit made by J. B. Sutton, but the latter claims he is innocent in the matter.

In serving notices of the injunction the officers used an automobile in going from one point to another. It is said when the deputies were at a point near Corbin that the police appeared and charged them with transporting liquor in their auto and turned them over to a prohibition agent, who searched the machine and found no liquor.

District Attorney Smith is conducting a thorough investigation of the matter and will question the four men when brought before Commissioner Roetken Tuesday morning.

The government steamer Goldenrod was at the local wharf Tuesday morning and took on supplies.

COUNTY JUDGES ARE MADE MEMBERS OF COAL COMMISSION

Governor Asks Judges of the States' Counties to Become "Guardian of the Counties" On the Coal Question.

County Judge H. P. Purnell Tuesday morning received from Governor Edwin P. Morrow a letter appointing him to look after the coal situation in Mason county. This is but one of 120 such letters mailed by the Governor to every county judge in the state.

At the same time, he has announced that a limit of $2.50 a ton on coal will be the margin between the price of coal and freight on same to the dealer, and what he may be permitted to charge the consumer.

Governor Morrow also wrote letters to every coal association in Kentucky, calling attention to the regulations which have been prescribed, and stating that he is calling on them to assist in the maintenance of such regulations and that any person of firm violating them will be prosecuted and punished to the full extent available.

In his letter, Governor Morrow asks each county judge to "function as guardian for your county," and to see that "no one charges more than the fair price." He calls attention to the fact that the rate now permitted is $4.50 a ton at the mines, and that only a reasonable margin over this amount may be collected.

"In no event may the difference be more than $2.50 a ton over the cost at mines and freight charge to the dealer," the difference to cover all costs until the coal has been delivered to the consumer.

Wherever there is complaint that the mine operator is charging more than $4.50 at ton, either directly or through employment of subterfuge, Governor Morrow asks the county judge to ascertain the facts and to make a report to him to that effect, and the same as to the retail dealers.

In his letter to the coal associations, he says that they must "police your industry and see that in no case is the fair price of $4.50 a ton at the mines exceeded."

The Governor also has written to the Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade throughout the state, in which they are asked to assist in obtaining facts and furnishing them to the proper authorities, in cases where they find anyone profiteering in coal.

With the appointment of the 120 county judges officially to take part in the coal distribution plan; with formal notice to the coal operators' associations of the part which he expects them to play in enforcement, and with a clear understanding given to the retailers and jobbers as to what amount they will be permitted to charge, the Governor now feels that the actual operation of his plan to control fuel sales in Kentucky may be said to be under way.

MENTAL SURVEY OF STATE WILL BEGIN SOON

Experts Will Look Into Mental Faculties of Prisoners of State—School Children Will Also Be Surveyed.

Plans for conducting the mental survey of Kentucky authorized by the last General Assembly took definite shape Monday afternoon when the Advisory Committee for Kentucky, appointed by Gov. Edwin P. Morrow to co-operate with the National Committee for Mental Hygiene, met at the State Board of Health Building, Louisville.

The purpose of this survey is to determine what are the deficiencies of prisoners in the state's penal institutions and the character of the mentalities of its school children in order that steps may be taken to reduce the number of criminals and defectives in the state in the next generation.

Decision was reached Monday to have them begin at the penitentiary at Frankfort with a survey of all the prisoners, taking in order those who have been convicted more than once, those who have just been sentenced to the institution, and those who have become eligible for parole.

Later similar surveys will be made of the School of Reform at Greendale and of fifteen selected jails. Finally there will be an investigation in ten typical counties with the particular object of discovering the causes of absenteeism among school children and the reasons for their failure to earn promotion.

BOY WANTED FOR SLAYING HIS FATHER SEEN AT BROMLEY

Although Batavia Officials Thought Young Lieberman Had Committed Suicide, Kentucky Farmer Says He Saw Him Monday.

Although Batavia, Ohio, police still are working on the theory that Gus Lieberman, wanted on a charge of killing his father, Frank Lieberman, wealthy Batavia farmer, who was found fatally wounded in his home last Friday, committed suicide, it was established practically beyond doubt Monday that young Lieberman was seen in Bromley, Ky., early Sunday night.

William Dall, plasterer, living on Pleasant street, Bromley, was summoned to the door Sunday shortly after he had finished his supper. A youth, apparently about 18 years old, the same age as Lieberman, stood on the front porch.

"I am very hungry, mister," he said, "and I have no money. I wonder if you would give me something to eat?" "Sure," Dall replied, "come right in."

No sooner had the boy entered than Dall, who lived near Batavia until two years ago and who knew the Lieberman family, recognized his guest as Gus Lieberman. Knowing that Lieberman was wanted for murder, he said nothing about it until Lieberman sat down to the table. Dall then left the house by the back door and went to a restaurant in the same block owned by Harry Traylor.

He asked Traylor to notify the Covington and Cincinnati police, Traylor did so, but the police informed him that they had no jurisdiction and notified the sheriff. By the time deputies arrived the youth had started down the road in the direction of Constance, Ky., (finishing his meal before Dall returned home).

The police, it was said last night, were inclined to doubt that the youth was Lieberman and did not notify the authorities with jurisdiction over Constance.

Dall, however, said he was practically positive that it was Lieberman and explained that he had been well acquainted with the boy during his residence at Batavia.

WANTED TO BE PUT AGAIN BEHIND JAIL BARS

Youth, Although on Bond Furnished Through Father's Efforts, Asks Officers To Put Him Again In Jail.

A most unusual thing happened at the local police station Tuesday morning when Elmer Catron, under replevin bond to the court for a breach of the peace charge, called and asked Acting Chief of Police Carl Carpenter to lock him up in jail to finish laying out his fine.

Catron had served several days on his fine when last Saturday his father appealed for him before Judge Harry C. Curran and furnished a replevin bond for the balance of the fine. The boy was released and permitted to return with his father to his home in the county. The bond taken was for the payment of the balance of the fine and not for the boy's appearance and the Acting Chief therefore could not accommodate the young man by again locking him up in jail.

So far as is known, this is the first time that a man has begged at police station to be locked up in the local jail, and was refused.

RAILROAD STRIKE CONTINUES WITH MUCH DISORDER

Troops Guard Shops in North Carolina — Attempt to Wreck C. & O. Bridge Is Frustrated by Track Walker.

Chicago, Aug. 22. — Eight companies of state troops are on duty about the shops of the Southern Railway at Spencer, N. C., where 1,700 men are out, about the postoffice at Salisbury, three miles from Spencer. The troops at the postoffice were requested by Postmaster A. H. Bowden, who alleged that open threats had been made to lynch a postoffice clerk.

At Atlanta thirty-five extra United States deputy marshals are on duty in the Southern Railway's Inman yards, where yesterday a negro was perhaps fatally injured and nine others severely beaten.

Traffic on the Louisville-St. Louis division of the Southern will be tied up completely at 12:30 o'clock Thursday, unless B. G. Falls, general superintendent of the Western division and representative of the "big four" brotherhoods effect an agreement on the road's use of armed guards. The general division walkout set for Thursday would take in all the "big four" men and will affect, it was estimated, between 350 and 400 men located at terminals at East St. Louis, Ill., Louisville, Princeton, Ind., and Huntington, Ind.

At Huntington, W. Va., a second attempt to dynamite a Chesapeake & Ohio railroad bridge was frustrated when a trackwalker frightened three men from the trestle. They left a box of dynamite and forty feet of fuse.

Linemen for the Missouri & North Arkansas railway discovered an obstruction on the tracks near Harrison, Ark., and removed it ten minutes before a train passed. Oil had been smeared on the tracks and a heavy iron bar placed on them.

COLUMBUS OF TODAY

By RICHARD LLOYD JONES

Amundsen recently sailed from Seattle to become ice-locked in the hope that he might drift across the north pole.

What's the use, you wonder. Man has already been to the north pole and there wasn't anything there but a lot of cold weather. It was a lonely place. Why go again?

Columbus was eered when he sailed against the whole world's unbelief. He set out to find new seas. To his own amazement he found new shores. Even when he returned to tell his tale wise men declared the venture interesting but what's the use; the new found land was so far away no one would ever go there.

Recently some mountain climbers, seeking to set foot on the "roof of the world" ascended the unexplored altitudes of Mt. Everest. High up in the Himalayas they found vast plateaus, rich in soil with forests and lakes and grasses such as are found in the north tier of American states. These were not little pocket spots in the mountains but a vast region that would measure out Minnesota and Montanas.

But what's the use of it all? We say, we can't get there. Mile high precipices prevent.

The legislature of New York came within two or three votes of refusing to grant the Delaware and Hudson company the right to build a railroad because it would scare the horses. But it was the railroad and not the horse that made possible this great nation of homogeneous people more than three thousand miles long.

They jeered at Fulton's boat. "It moves!" they cried. To their amazement, it move up river.

When the first steel ship was launched foolish folks went down to see it sink. The crowd saw only the iron hull; they knew iron sinks. The inventor saw the air in the iron hull; he knew the air would float.

The world today is full of out of the way places which tomorrow will be as much a part of the busy world as the shores Columbus found.

Aeroplanes will lift us into the Minnesotas and Montanas of the Himalayas. Rich farms will be there, towns, colleges, cities like Billings and St. Paul.

Radio is an amusing toy. Wonderful, we say. We wisely predict the time when it will carry music from a great operatic center to even the most isolated and humble cabin homes. We talk wisely of its educational powers. These are near enough to be calculable. It is going to carry conversation around the whole world. It is going to print news in the parlor. Radio is going to give all nations one tongue.

No scientists talk of sending heat waves that will modify inhospitable climates. These heat waves will make possible not merely Montanas but whole Australias where Amundsen is going and where Shackleton has been.

It is a wonderful world we live in. The laboratory is the mighty missionary. And there is many a Columbus serving a vaster future by beating pathways into the pathless regions of today.

FREE SPEECH

The last word in the argument between William Allen White and Governor Henry Allen of Kansas in their argument over the right of the Kansas industrial court to force citizens to remove placards stating their position in regard to a strike, seems to have appeared in an editorial in the Emporia, Kansas, Gazette, of which Mr. White is editor. This editorial, addressed "To an Anxious Friend," is described by the New York World as "a model of kindly and devastating criticism" and the Literary Digest in its recent issue reprints the editorial in full with the additional comment of the World that it deserves a place among historic public documents.

Mr. White's editorial follows:

"You tell me that the law is above freedom of utterance. And I reply that you can have no wise laws nor free enforcement of wise laws unless there is free expression of the wisdom of the people—and, alas, their folly with it. But if there is freedom, folly will die of its own poison, and the wisdom will survive. That is the history of the race. It is the proof of man's kinship with God. You say that freedom of utterance is not for times of stress, and I reply with the sad truth that only in time of stress is freedom of utterance in danger. No one questions it in calm days, because it is not needed. And the reverse is true also; only when free utterance is suppressed is it needed, and when it is needed, it is most vital to justice. Peace is good. But if you are interested in peace through force and without free discussion, that is to say, free utterance decently and in order—your interest in justice is slight. And peace without justice is tyranny, no matter how you may sugar-coat it with expediency. This state today is in more danger from suppression than from violence, because in the end, suppression leads to violence. Violence, indeed, is the child of suppression. Whoever pleads for justice helps to keep the peace; and whoever tramples upon the plea for justice, temperately made in the name of peace, only outrages peace and kills something fine in the heart of man which God put there when we got our manhood. When that is killed, brute meets brute of each side of the line.

"So, dear friend, put fear out of your heart. This nation will survive, this state will prosper, the orderly business of life will go forward if only men can speak in whatever way given them to utter what their hearts hold—by voice, by posted card, by letter or by press. Reason never has failed men. Only force and repression have made the wrecks in the world."

In his battle for free speech the Kansas editor has many backers. After all, no system which can not stand the acid test of open discussion is worthy of being continued. No course taken by public officials which can not stand full square before questioning and criticism can justify itself.

The placard Mr. White tacked up in his Emporia office was hardly of enough dignity to cause any one to worry over whether it was taken down or left up. But what he has said about free speech is true beyond question.

"This nation will survive . . . the orderly business of life will go forward if only men can speak whatever way given them to utter what their hearts hold."

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington. — "There is not a state in the Union where a man can be re-elected to the governorship or to any other executive office if he fails in his duty in the preservation of law and order and the protection of life and property," declares the Republican Publicity Association. "It is true that an emergency exists which calls for unusual courage and ability, but the exercise of unusual courage and ability is what governors are for. In ordinary times ordinary men can perform executive functions. Men who have sought the high office of governor of a state and have been entrusted with its duties are irresponsible have assumed to possess more than ordinary fitness for the position. Moreover, they have taken a solemn oath to support the laws and constitutions of their states as chief executives. Upon them, therefore, rests a special responsibility which they can not evade.

"The maintenance of peace and order is primarily a state and not a national governmental function. Only when the power of the state proves inadequate is the national government called upon to act. This fact should and will be kept in mind by the citizens of the several states who will hold their own state executives responsible for the exercise of every possible power in the preservation of peace and maintenance of public safety.

"All the world despises a coward. Not even the criminal has respect for the officer of the law who shirks his duty. All the world despises a traitor. Not even among the beneficiaries of the treason could Benedict Arnold find associates.

"If the call of duty will not induce an executive to enforce the laws, the fear of obloquy should spur him to action. The public servant who becomes a traitor to his trust has no future better than the ostracism and ignominy of Benedict Arnold unless he has the decency to shorten his career by following the example of Judas Iscariot."

MORGAN FARMERS ENTER DRIVE FOR COVER CROPS.

Lexington, Ky. — Morgan county farmers are the most recent ones to join the annual fall cover crop campaign being conducted throughout the state through the co-operation of the farmers' organizations, county agricultural agents and the extension division of the College of Agriculture, according to R. E. Stephenson, soils specialist of the college. The campaign is designed to prevent the heavy losses of plant food caused by erosion and leaching when the fields are left unprotected during the winter.

Farmers in the county who are co-operating with County Agent R. B. Rankin are expected to make a special effort to have a large acreage of rye seeded, this crop being the principal one that will be used in the campaign. Morgan county has a considerable acreage of rolling land that erodes rapidly when left without a growing crop during the winter. Many tobacco and cowpea fields and a number of corn fields in the county are in special need of some crop to protect them.

from erosion and leaching, the rye on many farms in the county will be used for pasture. The crop has proved satisfactory for grazing with all kinds of stock, many farmers last year having been especially pleased with it as a pasture for dairy cows and ewes that were suckling lambs. Calves and pigs also thrive on young rye.

A few farmers in the county who have rich soils on their farms will use vetch and rye as their cover crop combination. In this case about ten rounds of vetch seed will be used with a bushel of rye for each acre. Vetch is especially valuable since it is a legume and therefore builds up the soil. It is hardy but the seed must be inoculated and requires a little better soil than rye.

In most cases where the betch and rye are seeded together they will be plowed under in the spring for green manure. Farmers who use rye alone will either plow it under or use it as a nurse crop for grass. Satisfactory results are obtained by handling the crop either way. Pasturing the rye when it is used as nurse crop does not injure the grass if the stock are removed early in the season.

More than 160,000 forest fires have occurred in the United States during the past five years, 80 per cent. of which were due to human agencies, and, therefore, preventable.

Mr. Talbot is also a member of the Blackville Quartet which is one of the features of the solo. The principal soloists this season are Roscoe Humphrey, Al Tint, Herman Schultze, Norman Brown, Maxwell Gordon, Robert Johnson, Grover Scheppe, P. H. ably with the best ever heard in minstrelsy is under the expert direction of Prof. Ernest Hatley.

OLD TOM.

Bill has had old Tom for nineteen years. The horse was given to Bill by his father for Bill to drive when he started going to town to high school every day. Bill figures the horse must be past twenty-five years old, but he's always had a lot of love and good care and he's a hearty old thing for all his years.

But he can't work in the fields any more. Last year Bill put him in on some of the lighter work just to satisfy him, but he was no help and the other horses bit at him.

He's on pasture now, and he walks up and down the fence all day following Bill and his outfit in the other field, whinnying and just breaking his ol' heart to see the young horses there under the guidance and the voice of the only man old Tom ever loved.

It seems too bad, doesn't it, that a man or a horse or any living thing should work so long and so hard and when the easy days come, instead of rolling around in the blue grass, and enjoying life the poor old creature just spends his days grieving for the work he's free from?—Farm Life.

PARK IN ALASKA.

The Mount McKinley National Park, Alaska, is the second largest national park, containing in its 2,645 square miles the most sensational section of the great Alaska range culminating in Mount McKinley, altitude 20,300 feet the highest peak in North America, says the American Forestry Magazine. Congress created this national park principally to protect its wild herds of caribou, moose and mountain sheep.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanné Price

New York. — We could see it coming, of course, the elimination of drugs from the drugstore, just crowded out by evolution. And it's already here. A drug store in the north end of town — and a chain store, at that — has posted a sign announcing that because of the volume of other business, this particular "drug store" will handle drugs no longer.

There is a rumor of a "safety week" campaign ahead of us here. It seems silly to concentrate on safety for a period, no matter how long or short, but undoubtedly a public reminder of that kind does recall the heedless to their duty toward fellow-citizens. I know a place I shall send the committee in order to reach one class of the careless. One of our leading sports goods stores administered to a dangerous customer the other day. He was looking over their shooting irons and somehow no one ever can explain just how — one piece was loaded. He put it up to get a sighting, touched the trigger with his finger, and the store was turned into a miniature battle ground of plate glass trenches. The clerks all ducked to cover, the papier mache decoys with them, and shattered glass flew in the wake of the shot.

No casualties were listed, but we all expected them, beyond a doubt and in large numbers. —NY—
Following the great success of "Kempy," the Nugent family are getting ready for production another comedy, entitled "A Clean Town." It was interesting to watch New York succumb almost in spite of itself to "Kempy." Written by a man with only vaudeville experience, and acted in great part by him and his son and daughter, it just couldn't be quite up to what the sophisticated Manhattan audience demands, they were confident. But it certainly was, and is sprinkled with humor that is not only real but subtle. Now we await "The Clean Town" with rosiest assurance of enjoyment.

Mrs. E. Sladden believes in standing up for her rights to the point of subduing the entire police department, if necessary. The other evening, she was standing on the corner of Eighth avenue and 24th street, waiting for her husband — and incidentally smoking a cigarette. A shocked policeman struck it from her hand, whereupon she marched her husband to the police station to demand an apology. She is going to push the matter, too, and has retained a woman lawyer to represent her. Not anger, but rights, is what she is moved by, she explains.

WOMAN COULD NOT WORK

Made Strong and Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Paul, Minn. — "I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a tired, worn-out feeling and painful periods. I used to get up with a pain in my head and pain in my lower parts and back. Often I was not able to do my work. I read in your little book about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have taken it. I feel so well and strong and can do every bit of my work and not a pain in my back now. I recommend your medicine and you can use this letter as a testimonial." — Mrs. PHIL. MASER, 801 Winslow St., St. Paul, Minn.

Just another case where a woman found relief by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Many times these tired, worn-out feelings and pains about the body are from troubles only women have. The Vegetable Compound is especially adapted for just this condition. The good results are noted by the disagreeable symptoms passing away — one after another.

received in the battle, in which about forty-five shots were fired.

During the ice age, great glaciers streamed down the valleys from both sides of the Continental Divide, says the American Forestry Magazine. These glaciers have now disappeared, except for small ice fields at heads of the valleys, but the work that they did in scooping out valleys, building up moraines, and gouging out glacial cirques is still plainly visible in the Rocky Mountain National Park.

HELPFUL WORDS

From a Maysville Citizen.

Is your back lame and painful? Does it ache especially after exertion? Is there a soreness in the kidney region? These symptoms suggest weak kidneys.

If so there is danger in delay. Weak kidneys get weaker fast. Give your trouble prompt attention. Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Your neighbors use and recommend them.

Read this Maysville testimony. Mrs. J. W. Ishmeal 225 East Fifth street, says: I had been a sufferer from kidney trouble for many years. My kidneys were in a weak condition and at times they acted too often. My back ached terribly which broke my rest at night. I had dizzy spells and could see flashes before my eyes and everything turned black before me.

A friend told me about using Doan's Kidney Pills with benefit so I sent to Swift's drug store and got two boxes. After using them I got better and have felt like a different woman ever since. I can't recommend Doan's too highly.

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy — get Doan's Kidney Pills — the same that Mrs. Ishmeal had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

JUNGLE PHOTOGRAPHY

NOT EASY.

Martin Johnson, the world-famed adventurer whose latest motion picture record of his exploits will be shown at the Pastime theater Wednesday, says that jungle photography has many disappointments.

When Martin Johnson decided to photograph wild animals in their native surroundings, he and Mrs. Johnson went to British North Borneo and, assembling an expedition started up the Kinabatangan River into the heart of the jungle. They were gone five months, and managed to get excellent photographs of the wild life. It was not easy work, however, for most of the jungle animals remain under cover during the day, venturing forth at night. Mr. Johnson had to wait twenty days before getting a motion picture of elephants as shown in his "Jungle Adventures," and then he was only able to photograph a hundred feet of negatives before the elephants charged towards the camera, and he was forced to seek safety by climbing the nearest banyan tree.

BONUS UP WEDNESDAY.

Washington, Aug. 21. — Senate Republican leaders continued negotiations today for an unanimous consent agreement for a final senate vote on the soldiers' bonus bill, but apparently with little prospect of immediate success.

The bonus measure is the senate's unfinished business and will be taken up after the senate reconvenes Wednesday.

MINSTRELS HERE FRIDAY EVENING TO OPEN SEASON

"Lasses" White and His Company of Burnt Cork Entertainers to Furnish the First Stage Show of the Season on Friday.

Newspaper critics elsewhere have proclaimed "Way Down South" is a worth-while feature this season with "Lasses" White's All Star Minstrels, which organization is to be seen at the Washington on Friday, August 25th. "In Way Down South" "Lasses" White has written a sketch of a phase of Southern life with which he is thoroughly familiar and which brings out strongly some of the dominant characteristics of the negro race. The scene shows the home of Old Black Joe and Aunt Hana — log cabin in a field of blooming cotton with the Mississippi River in the distance and here the dream of old Black Joe which has to do with the return of his three sons at Christmas time from college is fully realized.

The home coming of the boys is made the occasion for general festivities in which singing and dancing figure conspicuously. A special feature has been made of the music in "Way Down South" and its rendition, notably that part which has been arranged for the quartet, has everywhere won unstinted praise.

A spirited finale to the piece is reached through a reproduction of the famous race between the steamboat Robert E. Lee and the Natchez. The opportunity for scenic and electrical effects are fully taken advantage of.

TWO ARRESTED AS SUSPECTS IN DAVIES DYNAMITING CASE.

Owensboro, Ky., Aug. 21. — Lewis Downs, of Narrows, Ky., and Will Roach of Daviess county, are under arrest as suspects in the dynamiting at 11 o'clock Sunday night of the Richard O'Bryan coal mine, five miles west of this city on a much traveled road.

The two men were pursued from the neighborhood of the mine and about the city streets for nearly an hour by police and members of the sheriff's force, immediately following the explosion. They were unable to give any acceptable reason for their presence near the mine.

HARDWOOD FLOORING ARRIVES FOR EAGLES DANCE HALL.

The hardwood flooring for the third floor of the new Eagles' building at Market and Front streets arrived Tuesday morning and will be installed at once. This large room which will be 77x40 feet will be the lodge room proper and will also be used as a dance hall. It will be one of the largest in the city. The delay in the arrival of this material has held back work considerably on the building.

COAL PRICE CURB IS BEING PLANNED.

Washington, Aug. 22. — A new law to curb coal profiteering is being framed by administration cabinet members.

At the suggestion of President Harding several plans have been submitted to Harry M. Daugherty, attorney general, and he is expected to confer with Secretaries Herbert Hoover and J. J. Davis today in an effort to find a satisfactory measure.

TRAIN PARTLY DESTROYED.

Pineville, Ky., Aug. 22. — Officials of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Co., are probing the collision between a double-header freight train into a tank car containing 6,000 gallons of gasoline, which was between two cars of hay, a car of feed and a car of hides on a siding seven miles from here Sunday. The gasoline was ignited and the five cars destroyed.

MAY NEELY OF MCGANNON TRIAL NOTORIETY, DIES.

Cleveland, Aug. 22. — Miss May Neely 42, who came into the limelight through her sensational testimony against William H. McGannon, formerly chief justice of the Municipal court, in his two trials for the murder of Harold Kagy, is dead. McGannon is serving a term in the state prison.

FIND FOR HAVING FOXES CHAINED.

Mr. Darius Baldwin, of the county, was fined twenty-five dollars and costs by Squire Fred W. Bauer Tuesday afternoon on a charge of having two foxes chained at his farm. Mr. Baldwin contended that he had the young foxes chained to decoy the mother which had been catching his chickens. His attorney served notice of an appeal on the case to Circuit Court.

GLEASON IS TAKEN TO FLEMINGSBURG

Slayer Who Escaped Flemingsburg
Jail Ten Years Ago, is Returned—
Must Serve Penitentiary Sentence

Sheriff Clark Overton of Fleming county, passed through Maysville Tuesday afternoon from Covington en route to Flemingsburg, having in charge Edward Gleason, who was arrested by prohibition agents in Dayton, Ky., last Friday evening on a charge of moon-shining.

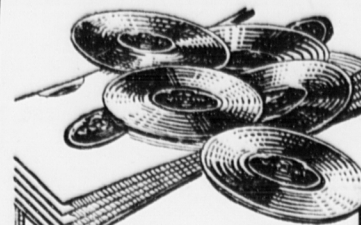

In the Covington jail Gleason admitted that he was wanted in Fleming county where he escaped jail after being sentenced in Circuit Court to serve twenty-one years in the state penitentiary on a charge of manslaughter. Gleason's case was taken to the Court of Appeals and the Fleming court was sustained. It was pending this appeal that the prisoner escaped from the jail.

After certain formalities at Flemingsburg are passed through, the prisoner will be taken to Frankfort to begin a term which would have by this time have been more than half served, had he not escaped.

Gleason was taken from Maysville to Flemingsburg by automobile.

MISS MCCORMICK AND MAX SAID TO HAVE ELOPED.

Basle, Switzerland, Aug. 22. — An unconfirmed report was in circulation here today that Maj. Max Oser, 47-year-old Swiss riding master, and his 17-year-old fiancée, Miss Mathilde McCormick of Chicago, granddaughter of John D. Rockefeller, had eloped either to Austria or Italy, and had been married. Friends of the couple professed to know nothing of their whereabouts. Miss McCormick, accompanied by a maid and a companion, came to Switzerland about a fortnight ago, ostensibly to meet her suitor and visit friends.
